NISD's Mary Seltzer Named Principal of Lakeview Elementary School

At the May 12 school board meeting, Superintendent Karen G. Rue, Ed.D. recommended Mary Seltzer as the principal of Lakeview Elementary School.

“It is my pleasure to recommend Mary Seltzer as the principal of Lakeview Elementary School,” said Superintendent of Schools Karen G. Rue, Ed.D. “Mary is a strong instructional leader and has a passion for community schools. She will be a tremendous asset to Lakeview Elementary School, its students, staff and the community of Trophy Club.”

Currently, Seltzer serves as the assistant principal of Northwest ISD's Samuel Beck Elementary School, also located in Trophy Club. She has been serving students and teachers in Northwest ISD since 2007. Seltzer was a campus instructional teacher at W.R. Hatfield Elementary and Chisholm Trail Middle School. She has also taught at Medlin Middle School. Seltzer is a doctoral candidate at Nova Southeastern University. She holds her master's in leadership and administration and a bachelor's in political science from Chapman University. She has served as an instructional facilitator and a mentor coordinator and has participated in several leadership programs in Northwest ISD.

“I am excited to work with the students and staff at Lakeview Elementary School,” said Mary Seltzer. “I look forward to partnering with students, staff, parents and the community to build upon the excellence already established at this campus.”

Mary Seltzer replaces Stephanie Espinosa, Ed.D. who was named NISD's Executive Director of Curriculum and Staff Development at the April 14 school board meeting. Seltzer will begin to transition into her new role as principal of Lakeview Elementary School this spring.
