Hughes Elementary School Ponytail Club Donates Hair to Support Cancer Patients

- WHO: Hughes Elementary School Ponytail Club
Shears of Steele high school students
Hughes Elementary School administrators and staff
- WHAT: Students involved in the Hughes Elementary School Ponytail Club have been growing their hair for months to donate for a good cause. High School students from the Northwest ISD cosmetology academy's Shears of Steele will attend a special assembly in the elementary school's gymnasium specifically to cut the club member's ponytails and talk about their experiences in the cosmetology academy.
- WHEN: Thursday, May 19
1:30 p.m.
- WHERE: J. Lyndal Hughes Elementary School
13824 Lost Spurs Road, Roanoke, 76262
- WHY: Not only is this event an excellent service learning project, but it gives high school students an opportunity to talk about their future ready experiences in an academy program in Northwest ISD. This is a way for elementary students to learn at an early age about the importance of giving back and planning for their futures. All donations from students, teachers and the campus principal will go to Pantene for people suffering from cancer.
