NISD's Kim Becan Named Principal of Cox Elementary School

At the November 16 Northwest ISD School Board Meeting, Kim Becan was approved as the new principal for Northwest ISD's Wayne A. Cox Elementary School.

"It is my pleasure to recommend Kim Becan as the principal of Cox Elementary School," said Superintendent Karen G. Rue, Ed.D. "We know her energy, enthusiasm and expertise will add much value to the staff, students and community of Cox Elementary."

Currently, Ms. Becan is the assistant principal at Northwest ISD's Clara Love Elementary School. Ms. Becan has worked in Northwest ISD since 2007 where she served students as a first and third grade teacher and a campus instructional teacher at NISD's Prairie View Elementary School. Additionally, she has worked as an elementary math instructional coach in Northwest ISD.

"I am thrilled to have the opportunity to work with and serve the children and community at Cox Elementary School," said Kim Becan. "I believe education is truly one of the most important professions providing a true impact on the future of our world. I look forward to meeting and working with the families, students and staff."

Becan has a master's of education school administration from Lamar University and a master's of education from the University of Houston. She received her bachelor degree from Texas A&M University. Prior to a career in Northwest ISD, she was a kindergarten teacher in Katy, Texas where she was also named New Teacher of the Year. In 2009, she was named the Northwest ISD Elementary Teacher of the Year.

"It is an honor to serve students and families in Northwest ISD," Becan shares. "I look forward to building a positive culture, leading and working with teachers, and fostering relationships with the community and students at Cox Elementary."

Ms. Becan will begin her new role as principal of Cox Elementary School this winter.
